Mas de la Vieille Traversière is a one-off creation that surprises the renter with its inventive and intriguing restoration. This historic stone farmhouse has been carefully renovated to preserve its Provençal character while introducing contemporary design and comfort. With five bedrooms, four bathrooms, and generous living areas, it accommodates up to nine guests. The house is set against a pine-clad hillside with panoramic views of the Luberon, offering a rare combination of atmosphere, tranquillity, and elegance. - Inside - The interiors are bright, elegant, and full of character. Traditional stonework and time-worn steps are complemented by modern fittings such as air conditioning, WiFi, and a fully equipped kitchen. Living spaces are arranged to maximise the views, with glass doors opening onto terraces and the landscape beyond. • Kitchen: Double oven, 4-ring gas stove, dishwasher, fridge-freezer, second fridge, Nespresso machine, coffee maker. • Dining Area: Adjacent to the kitchen, with access to the shaded courtyard. • Living Room: Air-conditioned, with sofas, armchairs, wood-burning stove, and wall of glass doors opening to the terrace. • TV Room: Equipped with television and Bluetooth speaker. • Guest WC: Located on the ground floor. • Laundry: Washing machine and dryer. - Bedrooms - The house sleeps nine in five bedrooms, with four bathrooms. Three bedrooms are air-conditioned. Each room has been restored with charm and individuality, combining rustic features with modern comfort. - Outside - The property is set in 5,000 m² of land, with a pine hillside behind and level gardens to the front. At its heart is a shaded inner courtyard, perfect for outdoor dining. The pool area, reached by stone steps, measures 8m x 4m and is surrounded by pines, with views across vineyards and the Luberon mountain. ...
